Clark County Fair Animal Husbandry Policy

- Exhibitors with live animals at the Clark County Fair are responsible for their animal's care and well-being before, during and after the fair.
- Exhibitors, or designated party, will check their animal every 2 hours during the Fair during the hours of 8:00 a.m. and 8:00 p.m.
- Exhibitors not complying with this will receive notice from the Fair Association and will have two hours to report to the Fair Office located at the Fairgrounds.

Procedure:

Animal is found to be in need of attention or care; notice left for exhibitor. Exhibitor or designated person has two hours to bring the notice to Fair Office and correct the situation. Exhibitors appearing within two hours receive no penalties; just education on correct animal husbandry and the opportunity to care for their animals. Exhibitors who do not check their animals within two hours will be penalized see below (a person may be designated by the exhibitor to check their animals when not at the fairgrounds):

Penalties for non-compliance:

1st notice Premiums forfeited for all animal exhibits

2nd notice All animal exhibits are removed from the fair by the exhibitor or at their expense; all fair premiums including non-animal exhibit premiums are forfeited

3rd notice All exhibits are removed from the fair by the exhibitor or at their expense; all fair premiums are forfeited; and the exhibitor is not permitted to exhibit at the Clark County Fair in the future

SEE EXAMPLES BELOW

The notices will be monitored by Clark County Fair and Animal Husbandry Policy will be enforced in all Clark County Fair animal housing areas. If you have any questions, please call Chris North (715-937-5553) or Brittney Lowry (715-797-4525).

Example #1:

- Chris Clover's animal has a dirty pen and no water.
- Fair Superintendent notices and a notice is left for the Chris.
- Chris arrives 10 minutes later; cares for his animal and takes the note to Fair Office.
- No penalty is issued and the Chris is reminded to keep his animal's pen clean.

Example #2:

- Candy Clover's animal has a dirty pen and no water.
- Fair Superintendent notices and a notice is left for the exhibitor.
- Exhibitor arrives 3 hours later; cares for their animal takes the note to Fair Office.
- Exhibitor is told his premiums are forfeited for their all animal exhibits for not observing their animal every 2 hours.
- Candy then goes home for the night; and returns at 11:00 a.m. the next morning and once again a notice is on their animal's pen.
- It has been one hour since the note was posted – the exhibitor takes the notice to Fair Office and is reminded to care for his animals between 8:00 a.m. and 8:00 p.m.
- Candy receives another notice that afternoon because once again the animals are without food, the pen is a mess and one of the animals may be getting sick; Candy does not return to the pens within 2 hours and at this time she is notified that she needs to take all of her animals home and all her premiums will be forfeited (including non-animal exhibits if there are any).
- Candy does have the option of exhibiting again the following year; but any further animal neglect at the county fair will result in her not being able to exhibit or receive premiums at the Clark County Fair.
